

Angel calling

Contents

Angel call

Lets get started

How to send an angel

Angel on earth

Hear the calling

Try this exercise

Angel vessel

Vibration

Align

angel help

Angel calling

At your door now is an angel with a message, waiting for your next order to share with the world and you. This beautiful unseen energy (to most) is answering your prayers and calls. Like the door, only free will is a small barrier, waiting for you to open your heart to them. Once opened the amazing opportunities to share this unconditional healing love is only a door away. Whether you believe or not, everyone has been touched by an angel at some point whether in joy, an earth angel or a moment of magic when everything falls into place. To truly feel the love from these angelic energies we must vibrate heaven on earth. Heaven is in all of us and once triggered, there is no limits to its amazing power. Lets begin a journey to once more align ourselves to this calling and see the new world of beauty awaiting us.

Lets get started

An angel can be sent to any situation to help us and others with life, as long as experience is not needed. For we all have our part to play in teaching others about life, illnesses and experience. Our vibration we put out creates lessons to learn and this is free will. When we learn the big picture we even see that problems are just signs. The clearer our connection to the source (the energy in everything that flows) the easier to ask an angel to help. For our body and brain may produce insecurities, fear or material blockages relating to past experience we have not let go off. In helping others we often have a need or want, which can relate to us needing or wanting help, which the angels don't work of this energy, for they have no needs or wants but to serve and play their part.

How to send an angel?

I like to get experiencing straight away and so why I have put this heading. In the experience of sending an angel or allowing an angel to do our work, we can truly learn and evolve in the work of angels. I see life as a two way experience and by serving the world, we learn the part we play and how we can connect to a source that knows no boundaries in learning and sharing. An angel brings peace and balance to the world, so think of those situations that an angel could help to solve unbalance.

They are also amazing for raising the vibration of others to help us on our journey find peace ourselves. When we link with others then they share in the vision of what will bring peace or pure insights from the source to bring balance to both life's in sharing. If you can imagine like going with a friend to guru who had all the answers but also you then become the guru as you link and share. Without your connection all wouldn't be able to access the fountain of knowledge. Like we are the key when we are unconditional love that opens this world of infinite knowledge we just let it flow through us as our brain takes on this new data. Like downloading new software to not just use but access to share with others.

Angel message :

Angels are just waiting to play their part, they may even already know the calling you will create. If we send an angel with unconditional love and in response to a call from those around us or thoughts that come to us, then we are sending in the purest form and so it makes it easier for an angel to complete. Also realise that they will know what is needed to bring peace, where we have limitations to such knowledge unless we share or the big picture emerges. Never attach a thought of what needs to be done or possible outcome you are looking for, as this is then triggering emotional needs and wants which the angel don't work too. For this stops the flow of the message

Angels on earth

We all have the capacity to be angels on earth and when we hear this calling, many without hesitation or thought for themselves are sent to raise people energies by merging with their own. They automatically share unconditional love and seem by just their presence bring peace to chaos. Angels also use earth angels to do their work but I think the key is when touched by an angel you become an angel for that brief time needed to do the planets work. Anyone can perform these amazing moments and often do without even knowledge of the incident. It is amazing how the timings and even just a smile has changed a person life in a moment, through this simple act of support and sharing.

Angels message:

More and more people are recognising that angels are working with them in whatever capacity to get the message across. If guided to places and situations then if right in heart then just do and you will tell when you have been sent by an angel because the timing and what you say has a major impact, whether you realise it or not.

Hear the calling:

The less emotional turbulence, the more we can hear an angel calling for us to go places, see people and share our energy. Some may say its intuition or gut feelings and some coincidences but either way the feeling is so overwhelming we often go into automatic mode. I feel they call upon humans to do the work for some people need that physical connection to actually be ignited to bring peace in their life's. With free will sometimes I feel the message from the angels just can't get through the door and so is why earth angels are called upon to deliver the message. I also feel that some mediums who understand the gift in the message and not themselves are able to deliver those small evidences to re-assure that we are not alone. For it is then we tend to get back to the oneness or the source. As some may say the collective. I think anyone can be an earth angel and it has no spiritual standing or enlightenment attributes. Once touched by an angel you energy source within you grows and cleanses your whole body to be connected once more for a brief time back to the source where anything is possible. We tend to lose this as we go back to our daily routines.

Try this exercise to hear or feel the call of an angel.

Angel message: An angel is never far away from you but you have to ask them for help. Make a list of what in your life you want balance, help or peace to and what feels right, try calling an angel to help. Try not to get caught up in the emotion, so just let your emotions go by putting into a box.

Nature, place, person etc...

Angel vessel

The more we understand that we separate from the source to experience the learning of separation, we can realise that even though the source is flowing in everything, we have created our vibration and lessons to let go of our false thoughts and illusions, stopping us flowing like the energy we came into this world as. The soul has held onto past emotions that we just didn't want to learn, probably due to the pain and emotion we felt and so we have come back to learn once more. As a vessel for the angels we allow the source to work for us and them in the most magical of ways as we turn our bodies into pure energy flow also. It is then we can become a oneness or be the source. Another example is instead of searching for the path, we become the path. We align our energies to that of heaven so we can see heaven on earth. For everything has its part in seeing this and the more we can vibrate an angel vessel, we can see the beauty in this new world once hidden by being a vessel of material substance only.

Vibration

The angels talk of vibration and how to learn the earth moulds to our vibration. Some may say like attracts like but this natural balance is why we can learn through experience in a physical way. We even attract the opposite to see what we are not. So some where in the vibration must be a similar or energy that balances. I hear all the time of being positive and even though true, the concept isn't often truly known how it works. If your having a negative thought then a positive one will balance and neutralise the original vibration. But if you try to be positive all the time, you have to have a negative to balance, this thought . The source is part of everything as so may be a neutral energy where it doesn't have to do anything but just be what it is. Just surrender to what it is. In trying to be positive, you are not positive, because you come from a place of not being. When positivity is flowing inside you, you don't have to be positive, for you already are. So to try to be is to detach from being and so cause a lesson to why separating from the source of being. So any situation, we have vibrated to experience because we are the vibration that attracts. If the source, and this is in everything, we already part of everything and so don't need to be anything but the source. So when your feeling your not flowing or life isn't right then all we have to do is align the vibration back to the angels energy or the source.

align the vibration

There is a natural way to align to the vibration. Nature does it perfect as it balances the energy . The angels are perfect energies and don't attach to the vibration that isn't them. So for us to work with angels unless touched by one we can help the process by becoming a vessel and aligning our vibration. This means we have to cleanse that which doesn't vibrate the pure energy or ignite the pure energy that is in everything. Once ignited it becomes the flow of the source once more. So lets get help from the angels to align our vibration and become a an angel vessel.

Angel message:

When we see ourselves as a new energy, we ignite the light within. This detaches us from past and future and gets us into the moment. In the moment is when we feel the vibration we are flowing. Let the angel align your vibration back to the source. By just imagining yourself flowing down a river, you get back into the flow.

Angels help :

Angels help with anything unless experience is needed. They also bring quicker solutions to problems than we can. Look out for an angel sending you to support and help others. For once you help, you are enlightened to the ways of life. Euphoric feeling of heaven touches your soul as you feel alive. You see for the first time the true essence of life and what can be achieved. Your possibilities are endless as your flow once more in the energy you have spent your life part of. Listen out to trigger words or words that seem out of place for the people you are with. They may say ot louder or just blurt out the help needed for those around them. Then you know how you can help and whether to send an angel. When miracles happen, try to stay humble as remember its not you but your part of the process and if claim, you will not be used again, for you have allowed the energy to stop the flow. Playing your part or sharing your life with angels brings such love from the source that we suddenly realise that we are a small but essential part of supporting and helping others. I could tell you hundreds of stories of angels but the pure angels, have no names as they are a part of everything. Everyone is assigned an angel to help them but they are all part of the same angel and in sending them to do a job, they tap into the knowledge of what is needed. An animal needing help, we can send an angel and it will become an animal angel. The name represents human understanding of the part they play.