

Souls inner voice message from the source

Many people look for answers in the wrong places, not because of guidance but because of fear. When we learn to be a part of everything that is in the source, fear of not having or having to search for something to make us whole again, is just the source highlighting you have separated. When separated, we allow the illusions and lessons to take hold, to see a world where lack prevails. It is only when you allow the flow of the source once more to flow in the moment, you can see clearly; you are abundant and not lack. Stop sabotaging your life by fearing the unknown and be grateful for all that you have, so more experience is around being one than being separate. For that which isn't the source is an only lack in perception and fear for good always come out of every situation we create through the vibration we vibrate. There is no lack until you think there is, there is no love till you stop loving yourself. Take back your power and see yourself as a soul with a vessel. The vessel is here to see the beauty in all, to experience the magic through having a vessel and learning to love unconditionally. This is not a dream, but a reality that everything moulds to your vibration and so what you see and think is part of your vibration and conditioning. Let go of false illusions and see the world for what it is, an ever evolving pure energy of joy.
